

Jaime Gonzalez Pereira is a Chilean-Swedish who moved to Atlanta early 2015 from Sao Paulo, Brazil together with his wife Priscila De Oliveira Baptista. Jaime's adventures in Atlanta began due to Elekta where he's been employed since 2007 and had the pleasure to work and live in Sweden, UK, Brazil and Turkey. In February 2015 he joined the Elekta Business Controller department for Region North America, where he works as a regional Business Controller and is responsible for analyzing and assisting with management decisions on the main markets and business areas; USA, Canada, Mexico, Oncology and Software. Prior to moving to Atlanta, Jaime worked as Territory Controller of Latin America for Elekta based in Sao Paulo, Brazil.

Jaime earned his Bachelor Degree in Business Administration from Stockholm University in Stockholm, Sweden, with concentration in accounting and financial instruments. During his period of studies he also worked for SIF and Naturskyddsföreningen.

He currently lives in Midtown in Atlanta where he and his wife enjoys being close to Piedmont Park and bicycling or running on the Belt Line. When Jaime is not working, he loves to play Football (soccer) and travel around Atlanta and the US with his wife.